

Center for Critical Development Studies

CCDS Associate Member

APPLICATION FORM

Becoming an associate member of CCDS means you will be invited to all CCDS activities and will have the opportunity to build networks with researchers and others who share your interests. You may be invited to speak at CCDS-organized activities and/or to contribute to the Centre's working paper series.

Associate membership is available to IDS alumni, former graduate associates, and others with an ongoing interest in critical development studies.

Name _____

Email Address (Print clearly) _____

Telephone Numbers (Home, Business and Cell) _____

Institutional or Departmental Affiliation _____

Indicate any former association you have had with CCDS (for example alumni of IDS, former graduate associate, etc.)

Research Interests and/or Experience related to critical development studies:

Would you be willing to lend support to UTSC undergraduate international development studies activities (for example, help with conference organizing, research advice)?

Why do you wish to become an associate member of CCDS?
