

Center for Critical Development Studies
Graduate Research Associate
APPLICATION FORM

Becoming a graduate research associate of CCDS means you will be invited to all CCDS activities. Affiliation to the Center will also give you the opportunity to present your research, to contribute to the Center's working paper series, to build networks with researchers who share your interests, and to participate in the organization of graduate student workshops on topics of concern to the Center's community of graduate students.

The deadline for consideration of the first round of applications is October 14, 2019.

Name _____

Email Address (Print clearly) _____

Telephone Numbers (Home, Business and Cell) _____

Institutional and Departmental Affiliation _____ (eg.
University of Toronto, Anthropology Department)

Graduate Program (check one):

- MA
- MSc
- PhD
- Other

Describe how your research interests and experience are related to critical development studies:

If you are a PhD student or a Master's student writing a thesis, what is your topic?

Would you be willing to lend support to UTSC undergraduate international development studies activities (for example, help with conference organizing, research advice)?

Why do you wish to become a research associate affiliated with CCDS?