WITH AN EXCEPTIONALLY DIVERSE STUDENT POPULATION AND A PERSISTENTLY GLOBAL MINDSET, THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO SCARBOROUGH EMBRACES A WORLD OF ENERGY, IMAGINATION AND PROMISE.

OUR SCHOLARS EXPLORE ISSUES RELEVANT TO THE CITY AT OUR DOORSTEP; OUR STUDENTS LEARN BY CONTRIBUTING TO THE WORLD AROUND US; OUR COMMUNITY DOES NOT STOP AT OUR CAMPUS BORDERS. UTSC IS A RESEARCH CAMPUS WITH A TEACHING SOUL, AN INSPIRING LEARNING ENVIRONMENT WHERE THE URBAN EDGE MEETS STRIKING NATURAL BEAUTY.

UTSC firsts

UTSC was the first campus in Canada to offer a B.Sc. program in neuroscience among the first in the country to offer programs in international development studies. The first U of T campus to offer the bachelor of business administration. UTSC’s psychology department developed Canada’s first undergraduate program in mental health studies.
Students complete work terms in more than 70 countries on 6 continents.

UTSC is known for providing unique educational pathways, such as the bachelor’s degree in environmental science to the professional master of engineering, and the bachelor’s in mental health studies to a master of social work.

UTSC’s Culinaria Research Program is one of the only Food Studies initiatives in North America that blends research excellence with community engagement and student research experience. Tracing the foodways of the vibrant multiethnic neighbourhoods of Toronto’s east end, UTSC researchers are pioneering new understandings of the economic and social practices surrounding the production and consumption of food, and the significance of food for diasporic identities, immigrant entrepreneurship, and cultural contact.

Food historian and Professor of Historical & Cultural Studies Jeffrey Pilcher teaches in the Culinaria kitchen.

UTSC’s Department of Management offers education in Entrepreneurship, both as an academic stream and a co-op program.
