RE:  COVID-19 Critical operations to support Restricted Access Phase at UTSC

Following the March 17 message from the Vice-President and Provost, while the University remains open, new campus restrictions will come into effect as of 11:59 pm, March 17, 2020.

Central Check-in Desk
All faculty, staff, students and contractors will be required to check in at a central point which will be located at the front doors of the Science Wing Building. Please note that Campus Security will log all movements in and out of campus facilities.

Identification Required
Everyone checking in to campus will be required to show identification. U of T Scarborough buildings will only be accessible to U of T faculty, staff and students. This is to ensure safe practices of limiting the number of people on campus and that social distancing is in effect.

Access to Buildings

- Academic Resource Centre (ARC)
- Bladen Wing (BV)
- Highland Hall (HL)
- Humanities Wing (HW)

- Science Wing (SW)
- The Arts and Administration Building (AA) will have restricted access.

The buildings listed below can only be accessed with a key fob:

Library and Computer Labs

Starting Wednesday, March 18, the UTSC Library and computer labs will be the only study spaces available. They will be open Monday to Friday, 10am-6pm for U of T students, staff and faculty. Please remember to bring your TCard when entering or exiting the library.

Please note that Help Desk and technical support will only be available in the Library. Library service points and access to the stacks and short-term loans will all be closed. We encourage people not to return books as all books will be automatically renewed.

If you have further questions please contact: info-staff@utsc.utoronto.ca.

To ensure community safety, students are strongly urged to practice social distancing in study spaces.

Study Spaces
The library and Bladen Wing 4\textsuperscript{th} Floor computer labs will be the only areas accessible for study purposes. All other study spaces will not be accessible.

Finally, we all need to continue to practice basic protective measures against COVID-19. For all the latest information, please see the University’s Coronavirus page. Please take the time to review our Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs).
