27. ANTC69H3S (2023 Winter) - Ideas That Matter: Key Themes and Thinkers in Anthropology The Anthropology of Science Fiction

i Ideas that Matter: The Anthropology of Science Fiction (Instructor Vinicius Furuie)

This course is about how we imagine alterity and the otherwise—and what that teaches us about ourselves. Anthropology's birth as a discipline reflected upon Euro-American encounters with other ways of living; ethnographic writing often divided social life into categories such as politics, religion, economy, and kinship. Science fiction imagines different forms of living and speculates upon what social life would be by inverting or varying some of these same categories. In this sense, it can be seen as a contemporary form of mythological thinking, a reflexive exercise that rethinks the human condition informed by categories from our analytical toolkit. We will read works by sci-fi authors such as Ursula Le Guin and Kim Stanley Robinson and explore themes that are central to both ethnography and science fiction—topics such as colonialism, gender, and the climate crisis—while reflecting on the power of writing and myth-making to produce meaning and the future.

29. ANTC88H3S (2023 Winter) - Special Topics

Anthropology Matters: Advocacy , Activism, and Social Movements

i Anthropology Matters: Advocacy, Activism, and Social Movements (Instructor Antonio Sorge)

This is a course on modern forms of social advocacy, and the link between public interest advocacy, political activism, and contemporary social movements. The study of advocacy, activism, and social movements covers a range of topics, from the advocacy of anthropologists on behalf of Indigenous societies, to advocacy for human rights, the organization of activism in the public sphere, the interrelationship of activism with mass media and propaganda, and reflection on the role of activist agendas in global governance (e.g. in the fields of environment and human rights). Contemporary social movements contest dominant interests through transformation of cultural or cosmological values, underscoring the need to examine several areas of topical concern, including the global rise of populism and identitarian politics, alter-globalization activism, varieties of ideological extremism, as well as debates surrounding the role of anthropologists and other academics as advocates and/or activists.

Amazonia and the Amazonification of Anthropology

Amazonia and the Amazonification of Anthropology (Instructor Vinicius Furuie)

This seminar explores anthropological approaches and historical/archeological debates around Amazonia, a hotspot of social and biodiversity currently under grave threat. We will begin by looking at how the region has been understood by outsiders since the arrival of Europeans and the idea that the forest is unable to support large human populations. This view, probably originated by European failures to practice agriculture in the region, has been recently challenged by evidence of Indigenous forms of agriculture dating as far back as 12,000 years that supported large Amazonian cities. From this renewed understanding of the history of the region, we will examine key ideas from the anthropology of Amazonia such as perspectivism, familiarization, and asymmetric relations of affinity. Lastly, we will look at current trends in the region, the cultural logic behind deforestation, and the cultural and intellectual production of indigenous, ribeirinho, and quilombola inhabitants of the region.

32. ANTD15H3S (2023 Winter) - Frontiers of Socio-Cultural Anthropology
Climate: Ecologies, Life, and Politics on a Damaged Planet

i Climate: Ecologies, Life, and Politics on a Damaged Planet

Rising temperatures, warming oceans, unpredictable weather, toxic atmospheres, global pandemics—we are living through unparalleled shocks to Earth's climate. Not only have human activities propelling capitalist growth exploited the planet's diverse ecologies, damaging them irreparably at times, the possibility of life—for humans and non-humans alike—has been threatened and rendered uncertain. This exploitation is mirrored in enduring histories of colonial and imperial rule, in which the exploitation of non-European peoples and places on a global scale has been central. It should thus come as no surprise that the people and places most impacted by changes in our climate are those who have bore the brunt of colonial and imperial violence. Put simply, what is currently happening to Earth's climate is inseparable from the climate of its politics.

This course explores climate as a dispersed entity bringing together multiple, intersecting relations that shape ecologies, life, and politics on the planet today. It will unpack questions like, how are processes—usually examined under the frame of colonialism, imperialism, and capitalism—radically altering the planet's ecologies, what forms of life have emerged across species in these damaged ecologies, and what political imaginations are required for inhabiting and repairing such a planet? Topics covered in the course will include but are not limited to: the nature of humanity and the climate; energy, empire, and power; economics of (de-)growth; industrializing food; working on a warming planet; multi-species care; environmental racism and justice; health and illnesses; disturbed atmospheres; and a climate of war.

Enrolment Control: A

SUPERVISED STUDY/RESEARCH & INDEPENDENT STUDY COURSES

Step 1: Request the course on ACORN. Your status will be INT. You will not be officially enrolled until you complete the remaining steps (below).

Step 2: Meet with the Supervisor and obtain their signature on a 'Supervised Study form'. Ensure the course code, supervisor's name and title of the project is clearly printed on the form as this information will appear on your transcript. The Supervised Study form is available at: <https://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/registrar/supervised-study-form>. Your Department listed below may require additional paperwork. Students should contact the office listed for more information.

Step 3: Submit the signed Supervised Study form and additional paperwork by email to the Program Advisor anthropologyadvisor.utsc@utoronto.ca. Program Advisor will update your course status on ACORN from interim (INT) to approved (APP).

Period 1: Initially restricted to students in the Conservation and Biodiversity Specialist and Majors; Molecular Biology and Biotechnology Specialists Co-op and Non Co-op, Human Biology Specialists and Majors, Integrative Biology Specialist, Molecular Biology, Immunology and Disease Major, Biology Major, Plant Biology Major, and Paramedicine Specialist.

Period 2: Shortly after 3:00 pm on Monday, July 18th any remaining space may open to all UTSC students.

NOTE: Due to the high demand for all Biology D-level courses we will be restricting the enrolment to 0.5 credits for Biological Sciences students enrolled in our Major programs only. Students in the Biology Minor Program will not be considered for priority D-level enrolment. Please see the following website for more information: <https://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/biosci/biological-sciences-d-level-enrollment>

Students request the course on ACORN but will not be officially enrolled until approval has been granted. Check your status through ACORN to see whether you have been approved. (APP = approval; REF = refused; INT = no decision yet)

Period 2: Shortly after 11:00 am on Thursday, July 28th if there is no waitlist, any space remaining may open to other UTSC students.

SUPERVISED STUDY/RESEARCH & INDEPENDENT STUDY COURSES

Step 1: Find a Supervisor and request the course on ACORN. Your status will be INT. You will not be officially enrolled until you complete the remaining steps (below).

Step 2: Meet with the Supervisor virtually and obtain their electronic signature on a 'Supervised Study form'. Make sure the course code, supervisor name and title of the project is clearly printed on the form as this information will appear on your transcript. The Supervised Study form is available at: <https://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/registrar/supervised-study-form>. Please also visit: <https://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/biosci/undergraduate-research-opportunities> and email Laura Shelly laura.shelly@utoronto.ca for additional paperwork requirements.

Step 3: Submit the signed Supervised Study form and additional paperwork by email to Laura Shelly laura.shelly@utoronto.ca before the last day to add courses for the session. Staff will update your course status on ACORN from interim (INT) to approved (APP).

Initially, CSC courses are open to all UTSC CSC program students, and all other UTSC students who require this course for their program. Students must also meet the course pre-requisite(s).

Starting shortly after 11:00 am on Wednesday, July 20th, B-, C- and D-level CSC courses will be opened to all UTSC students who meet the pre-requisites. Students who do not require this course for their program must meet additional Cumulative GPA (CGPA) requirements:

* A student who is not in a CSC program and does not have a CGPA of at least 3.5 may not take any B- level CSC course, with exception of CSCB20H3.

* A student who is not in a CSC program and does not have a CGPA of at least 3.5 may not take any C- or D-level CSC course.

* When a B-, C-, or D-level CSC course approaches its capacity, CSC program students will be given preference for further enrollment over non-CSC program students.

Refer to the computer science section of the calendar for more information on admission to courses.

i P = Priority, R = Restricted, A = Approval , E = Enrolment on ACORN is disabled

i If tutorial sections exist, all students must enroll in a tutorial section. Students enrolled in the Lecture will be accommodated in a tutorial. When the term starts, if necessary, additional tutorials may be added to accommodate all students enrolled in the course. Keep checking ACORN. More information will be provided during the first class.

341. IDSC10H3S (2023 Winter) - Topics in International Development Studies

i Topic of Winter 2023: “State Formation and the Politics of Development in the Global South: Explaining Divergent Outcomes”

Course Description: The state has proven to be one of the key factors paving the way for some countries in the Global South to escape conditions of underdevelopment and launch successful development programs over time. But, why have effective states emerged in some countries in the Global South and not in others? This course seeks to answer this complex question by investigating processes of ‘state formation’ using a comparative historical approach.

The course will begin by introducing students to theories of state formation. These theories will raise important questions about state formation processes, that include: What is a modern, ‘rational-legal’ state in theory and what do states look like in practice? What is state capacity and what are its components? What is the infrastructural power of the state and how does it differ from the despotic power of a state? How do state efforts to extend infrastructural power ignite political ‘battles for social control’ at both elite and popular sector levels of society? Finally, how do processes of state formation unfold over time? The course, then, dives into comparative examinations of state formation using examples from across the Global South – from Central and South America, to Africa and the Middle East, to South Asia and East Asia.

i Topic of Winter 2023: Race, Ethnicity, and Gender identity politics in International Development

Course Description: The objective of this interdisciplinary course is to critically examine race, ethnicity, and gender politics within development studies. This course explores the historical, cultural, political, and socio-economical realities that contribute to the making of the global South. As such, there is a critique of the theoretical conceptions of what constitutes international development. Conceptually, this course sheds light on the ways in which experiences of racialization, marginalization, and underdevelopment have socially been constructed in and through a colonial lens to save the 'Other'. It will also focus on identity politics in international development to interrogate questions of power relations from both historical and contemporary perspectives.

Enrolment Control: AP

Period 1: Initially restricted to students in the following programs: Specialist, Major and Minor Programs in Global Asia Studies; Specialist (Co-op) Program in International Development Studies, International Development Studies Major Programs, Specialist and Major Programs in Linguistics (Co-op and non-co-op) and Management and International Business.

Period 2: Shortly after 3:00pm on Thursday, July 14th, if there is no waitlist, any remaining space in these courses may open to other UTSC students.

Step 1: Request the course on ACORN. Your status will be INT. You will not be officially enrolled until you complete the remaining steps (below). If you are on a waitlist, you must also complete these steps in anticipation that you get enrolled into the course.

Step 2: Take the placement Test and survey at: <http://www.utoronto.ca/webapps/ptmandarin/>

Step 3: Answer all survey questions in detail to ensure your request to enroll in a Chinese course is processed. If a question is not applicable, indicate NA. If you encounter technical difficulties at this step, click the hyperlinked 'Technical Support' at the bottom right of the webpage or contact intranet@utoronto.ca

If you enroll or are admitted from the wait list after the deadline, you must fill out the questionnaire and submit it to the course instructor.

Check your status through ACORN to see whether you have been approved. (APP = approval; REF = refused; INT = no decision yet)

i P = Priority, R = Restricted, A = Approval, E = Enrolment on ACORN is disabled

i [1] You do need to take the placement/survey if you have never done so before.

[2] In general, there is NO need to take the test/survey again.

[3] Please do not email any instructor after you have successfully submitted your test/survey.

[4] The instructors will receive an automatic email alert.

[5] You will receive notification from an instructor within two business days regarding your status in the course. Your status on ACORN should be updated within 10 days of this notification.

[6] Students are welcome to select these courses but will not be officially enrolled until approved.

[7] Students whose level of proficiency in the language is considered unsuitable for the course will not be permitted to take the course.

[8] Students are not permitted to take LGGA- and LGGB-level courses in an incorrect sequence (i.e., take a lower level course after a higher level course).

i Title: Introduction to Set-Theory.

Description: Just about every branch of mathematics makes use of the foundational area known as set theory. We will study the axioms of set theory; relations, functions, and orderings; the natural numbers; finite, countable, and uncountable sets; cardinal numbers and arithmetic; ordinal numbers; the axiom of choice.

SUPERVISED STUDY/RESEARCH & INDEPENDENT STUDY COURSES

Step 1: Request the course on ACORN. Your status will be INT. You will not be officially enrolled until you complete the remaining steps (below).

Step 2: Meet with the Music Program Director to obtain permission to enroll in this course. You will be asked to choose a supervisor and then obtain their signature on a 'Supervised Study form'. Make sure the course code, supervisor name and title of the project is clearly printed on the form as this information will appear on your transcript. The Supervised Study form is available at: <https://www.utoronto.ca/registrar/supervised-study-form>.

Students should contact the Office listed for more information.

Step 3: Submit the signed Supervised Study form and additional paperwork by email to Manaal Hussain acm-pa@utoronto.ca

Staff will update your course status on ACORN from interim (INT) to approved (APP).

SUPERVISED STUDY/RESEARCH & INDEPENDENT STUDY COURSES

Step 1: Request the course on ACORN. Your status will be INT. You will not be officially enrolled until you complete the remaining steps (below).

Step 2: Meet with the Supervisor and obtain their signature on a 'Supervised Study form'. Make sure the course code, supervisor name, and title of the project is clearly printed on the form as this information will appear on your transcript. The Supervised Study form is available at: <https://www.utoronto.ca/registrar/supervised-study-form>. Your Department listed below may require additional paperwork. Students should contact the Office listed for more information.

Step 3: Submit the signed Supervised Study form and additional paperwork by email to Heather Seto hcs-psc@utoronto.ca. Staff will update your course status on ACORN from interim (INT) to approved (APP).
