Transition Advising - General
Transition Advising appointments are a way for you to speak to someone about a combination of issues, e.g. school, immigration, health insurance, well-being...
You may have questions about whether to leave Canada, or if you have already left, when you can return, as well as your immigration status, your health insurance, your academics and graduation plans. You may just need to talk with someone if you are worried about what is going on in Canada or at home, or are feeling alone.
Please be assured that you can meet with our Advisors in person, by phone, or by Skype.
